Compliance with the Large Yacht Codes: number of passengers

Guidance for Yacht Owners and Managers

In common with other flag states, BMSR is moving towards compliance with the Large Yacht Codes and it is planned to achieve full compliance for new yachts by the end of 2013.

BMSR requirements for yachts have been based previously on the British Small Passenger Ship Regulations which were rescinded some years ago. In some cases these regulations allowed for more than 12 passengers to be carried. This is no longer allowed and no more than 12 passengers may be carried on BMSR registered vessels under any circumstances.

This measure does not affect the number of guests that may be allowed on board in port.
