

Application

The following amendments were adopted by Member States, at a meeting which took place 23-27 April 2018 at the ILO in Geneva. The amendments were approved at the International Labour Organisation's 107th Session and will enter into force for Barbados on 26 December 2020.

Seafarers Employment Agreements (SEAs): Standard A2.1 was amended to establish that an SEAs will continue to have effect while a seafarer is held captive on or off the ship as a result of piracy or armed robbery against ships, regardless of the dates in their contract.

Wages: Standard 2.2 has been amended to ensure that SEAs of seafarers held captive as a result of piracy or armed robbery will continue to have effect, including for the payment of wages and other entitlements until the seafarer is released and duly repatriated or date of death is determined.

Repatriation: Guideline B2.5.1 was amended to ensure that entitlement of seafarers to repatriation does not lapse if they are held captive as result of piracy or armed robbery.

Barbados Maritime Ship Registry (BMSR) is aware that MLC 2006 is a flexible document subject to periodic amendments. We will continue to work closely with our Shipowners/Managers, Class Societies and other Recognised Organisations (ROs) who are delegated to carry out MLC 2006 inspection and certification functions, to work through any unanticipated issues and ensure that MLC 2006 amendments are fully and practically implemented.
